SCOPE AND CONTENTS

The papers of Elmer E. Rasmuson (352.5 cu. ft.) provide an unparalleled look at the early economic history of Alaska as well as a record of an influential pioneer family. Elmer Rasmuson (EER) and members of his family played a role in many of the decisions that helped promote Alaska as a land of unequaled opportunity and the collection reflects this, through EER's various roles as philanthropist, banker, politician, and member of several national and international committees.

This is a complex collection encompassing over a century of materials in a wide variety of formats. The materials are arranged by family member(s) or institution into ten record groups. Record Groups I, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII contain materials from EER's immediate family members: his mother, father, sister, wives, son, and two daughters. These groups are arranged by generation starting with EER's parents and continue through his youngest child. Record Group II contains Elmer Rasmuson's materials while Groups IX and X are the papers of the National Bank of Alaska and Rasmuson Foundation.

The Rasmuson family records span four generations. Materials in the family record groups are mostly in the form of correspondence that discusses civic, political, and recreational activities as well as family matters. For example, in Record Group I: Edward Anton Rasmuson (EAR) & Jenny [Olson] Rasmuson, there is quite a bit of correspondence concerning EAR's political activities as chairman of Alaska's Republican Party as well as personal letters to family. Other records in these groups are birth/death records, immigration papers, school records, photographs, and financial records. These papers will enable researchers to examine how national, local, and personal events influenced one family over time.

Record Group II, Elmer Edwin Rasmuson (EER), is one of the largest in the collection. His papers are arranged into ten series that reflect the variety of interests EER pursued over the course of his life. These include civic, political, philanthropic, professional, educational, and military activities as well as his own recreational pursuits and family investments. Influencing EER's activities were events of historic importance to Alaska such as statehood, the discovery of oil at Prudhoe Bay, the 1964 earthquake, and the establishment of the Alaska Permanent Fund Dividend. Rasmuson played a direct or indirect part in many of these events. Researchers will find that this meshing of Alaska history with EER's activities is most prominent in his political work (series 2). These papers contain information from Rasmuson's chairmanship of the Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation, his participation as a member on the Arctic Research Commission, records from EER's successful campaign to become Mayor of Anchorage, his attempt for a U.S. Senate seat, and his work on the International North Pacific Fisheries Commission.

Elmer Rasmuson's service to others can be seen throughout the collection. Meeting minutes, correspondence, and press releases in series 5: Educational Activities, document his nineteen years of service on the Board of Regents at the University of Alaska. Lists of EER's financial contributions to a variety of organizations/charitable causes can be found in series 3, Philanthropic Activities. Series 6, Speeches and Addresses, contains EER's remarks to a variety of groups. Many of these addresses either promote Alaska's economy or encourage the individual to seek out opportunity.

The second type of materials represented in this collection are institutional papers. Record Group IX: The National Bank of Alaska, provides the researcher with an opportunity to examine the economic history of Alaska. Founded in 1916 by a group of New York businessmen, the National Bank of Alaska established the first branch banking system in the Territory of Alaska and, by the time of its merger with Wells Fargo in 2000, was the largest bank in the state. These papers were arranged into subgroups by branch and a standard set of series organizes the records by function. Most of the records deal with the daily functioning of the bank. A look into some of the executive correspondence will reveal the establishment of bank policies and devices used today, such as the development of the ATM. The researcher is strongly encouraged to examine Dr. Terrence Cole's and EER's book, Banking on Alaska, a history of the National Bank of Alaska, prior to using these papers.

Record Group X: The Rasmuson Foundation is a small record group that deals with one of the largest charitable organizations in Alaska. Founded by EER's mother, Jenny, in memory of her husband, the Rasmuson Foundation provides grants and other financial assistance to Alaska-based institutions for community and state improvement. The papers in this group deal mostly with tax-related issues.

This complex collection provides many avenues of exploration for the researcher. Economic history, state history, political history, pioneer family history, along with the contributions Elmer Rasmuson and his family made over the years to the nation and state of Alaska are all represented in this rich source.

Collection Provenance

Several accessions formed the Elmer E. Rasmuson papers. In 1992, Paul McCarthy donated accession 92-034, consisting of a special edition of a National Bank of Alaska newsletter, The News Cache. In 2001, Edward Bernard Rasmuson, acting as the representative for his father's estate, conveyed accession 2001-128 to the archives. This made up the bulk of the collection (over 600 cu. ft.), containing EER's papers, those of his family members, the National Bank of Alaska and the Rasmuson Foundation. Wells Fargo Bank donated a group of bank ledgers (accession 2002-009) from the Bank of Wrangell and the First Bank of Sitka in 2002. Accession 2003-168 arrived through Edward Bernard Rasmuson via Wells Fargo Bank and contained 22 cu. ft. of National Bank of Alaska materials from Skagway.

include by-laws, correspondence, minutes, annual reports, remarks, memos, and printed matter. The records are arranged chronologically. Elmer Rasmuson became the first chairman of the Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation's Board of Trustees in 1980 and served until 1982.

He won the election and served one term from 1964 to 1967. The papers in this group include correspondence concerning EER's campaign, earthquake reconstruction, public concerns, and city council memos. There are also agendas and minutes of city council meetings, speeches, invitations, city awards, centennial observations as well as records from various city departments such as human resources and public works. There are also lawn signs and campaign bumper stickers.

The materials are arranged chronologically within the following groupings: campaign, mayor correspondence, city council memos, city council minutes and agendas, presentations/speeches, invitations/events/visits, city awards, civil defense/aeronautics boards, economic issues, projects, housing/zoning commission, human relations, parks & recreation, public works, social issues, and publicity.

This committee's purpose was the negotiation of fishing rights in the Pacific. Rasmuson would remain on this commission for fifteen years (1969-1984). In 1976, EER became the first chairman of the North Pacific Fishery Management Council (NPFMC), a regional headquarters for Alaska fisheries. This series contains papers from both the INPFC and the NPFMC. Records include correspondence regarding fishery provisions, reading files and agendas for meetings, travel plans and itineraries, meeting minutes, and reports. The records are arranged chronologically.

vi: Other Political, 1949-1957, 1973-1975 (4 folders) The papers in this group concern EER's participation (1950-1953) as the first chairman of Anchorage's City Planning Commission. Most of the materials are memos, correspondence, agendas, and minutes from these meetings. A single folder concerns EER's consideration and refusal of a position on the Board of Governors of the United States Postal Service.

vii: Senate Campaign, 1953-1968 (14 cu. ft.) When EER concluded his term as mayor in 1967, he announced his intent to run as U.S. senator in 1968. In August of that year, Rasmuson won the Republican primary, defeating Anchorage lawyer Ted Stevens, but lost the election to Democrat Mike Gravel in November.

These materials contain campaign contributions and thank you letters, correspondence from individuals and various headquarters around the state, Friends of Rasmuson (FOR) newsletters, news releases, committee lists, speeches, registered voter lists, public opinion surveys, election returns, information on opponents, clippings, printed matter regarding Vietnam, travel schedules, public appearances, bumper stickers, campaign signs, and television/radio promotions. There are a number of cassette tapes with radio spots and promotional material as well as film from some of the television advertisements made for Rasmuson's campaign. The film reels have been separated from the collection and are available at the Alaska Film Archives. The correspondence files for this series are arranged alphabetically while the remainder of the material is chronologically arranged.

viii: Swedish Consul, 1953-1987 (3 cu. ft.) Like his father, EER served as consular representative to Sweden (1955-1977). EER helped settle estates for deceased Swedish nationals who lived in Alaska, processed visas, and served as a legal representative. In 1966, the King of Sweden conferred a Knighthood, First Class, of the Royal Order of Vasa upon Rasmuson and in 1977 EER received an even higher honor, the Royal Order of the Northern Star.

The materials in this group are chronologically arranged and include estate papers, passport applications, circulars regarding revised procedures, statute books (most in Swedish), and photographs.

Series 3: Philanthropic Activities and Associations, 1968-2000 (5.5 cu. ft.)

Elmer Rasmuson donated a considerable portion of his income to various organizations and charities. His contributions went to a variety of groups that included: political candidates, schools, museums, medical institutions, and religious institutions. Folders labeled "Contributions" include lists of the donations EER made in a given year.

Materials in this series are alphabetically arranged and include correspondence regarding requests for financial support and contribution lists.

Series 4: Professional Activities and Associations, 1944-2001 (1.5 cu. ft.) EER worked as a principal accountant for Arthur Andersen & Co. before moving back to Alaska in 1943 to assume the presidency of the Bank of Alaska. Among his many achievements during these years was the writing of Oil and Gas Federal Income Tax Manual, a book that has gone through several editions and is still used today. Materials in this series include the aforementioned book, Arthur Andersen & Co. correspondence, Certified Public Accountant membership renewals, and notary public certificates.

Series 5: Educational Activities and Associations, 1945-2000 and undated (26.5 cu. ft.) This series documents EER's activities as an alumnus of Harvard University, where he completed his MBA in 1930, as well as EER's support of several educational institutions he did not attend. The Harvard material includes requests for fundraising campaigns, reunion invitations, event schedules, and Phi Beta Kappa contribution requests.

Rasmuson's greatest educational service, by far, was to the University of Alaska, where he was a member of the Board of Regents for nineteen years (1950-1969). Materials for the University of Alaska are alphabetically arranged and include board of regents' correspondence/memos, meeting minutes, press releases, budgets, and printed matter. Other papers include UA Foundation correspondence and materials regarding the creation of and acquisitions for the Rare Book Collection at Rasmuson Library. The remainder of the series contains financial donations to other institutions including Sheldon Jackson Jr. College in Sitka and North Park College in Chicago, which his mother, Jenny, attended.

Series 6: Speeches and Addresses, 1952-2000 (2 cu. ft.) This series contains addresses EER gave to a variety of audiences such as Rotary clubs, the University of Alaska and a symposium on mining. Most of these speeches promote Alaska's economic outlook while others encourage the individual to look for opportunity and act upon it. These materials are chronologically arranged.

Series 7: Military Activities and Associations, 1958-1993 and undated (3.5 cu. ft.) EER never served in the armed forces but took an active interest in the military. Materials in this series are arranged alphabetically and include meeting minutes and conference materials from EER's appointment as Civilian Aide to the Army (1959-1967). Other records generated from this position include travel itineraries, press releases, correspondence, and newsclippings. EER also supported various military institutions through financial donations. Examples include the Air Force and the Coast Guard.

Series 8: Recreational Activities and Associations, 1939-2000 (9.5 cu. ft.) The materials in this series have been divided into four sub-series: Aviator, Sportsman (hunting & fishing), Yachtsman, and Associations. Records within the first three sub-series are chronologically arranged, while the associations are listed alphabetically.

i. Aviator, 1946-1975 (.5 cu. ft.) Records in this group include correspondence regarding licensing, permits, rental of a lot at Lake Hood, medical check-ups, parts ordered, the sale of a Cessna, and insurance correspondence. Other records include sales brochures for planes, receipts from repairs and from pilot's associations, and various manuals for aircraft operations.

ii. Sportsman (hunting & fishing), 1948-1996 (1.5 cu. ft.) EER was an avid hunter and was especially fond of sheep hunting. He received the Grand Slam award for successfully bagging all four species of North American sheep. All folders in this group were originally labeled "Hunting & Fishing" regardless of whether both sports were represented or not. This labeling has been maintained. Records in this group include correspondence regarding travel information, sportsmen's club memberships, taxidermy, the Grand Slam award, and individuals with whom Rasmuson hunted. There are also brochures from outfitters, and photographs of EER and his friends/family hunting, camping, and showing off their trophies.

iii. Yachtsman, 1960-2000 (1.5 cu. ft.) Material in this group includes membership information from yacht clubs in Seattle, Vancouver, Juneau, and Ketchikan, sales brochures for boats, correspondence regarding chartered boats and records from navigation classes. There are also bills for the upkeep of the Nanook I (sailboat) as well as boat plans and costs for the Nanook II (yacht).

iv. Associations, 1961-2000 (6 cu. ft.) EER belonged to a variety of clubs and organizations. The bulk of these papers regard the Bohemian Club, an extremely exclusive organization. Rasmuson applied for membership in 1961 but was not elected a member until 1979. The folders were originally labeled three different ways ("Bohemian Club," "Druids Camp," and "Bohemian Grove") and these titles have been maintained. Records include articles of incorporation, membership rosters, financial documents, playbills for events at the annual Druids' Encampment, guest cards for EER, travel plans, and correspondence regarding EER's and his son's membership status.

Other associations in this group include the Boone and Crockett Club, the Grand Slam Club, Trout Unlimited, the Alaska Big Game Trophy Club and other sportsmen conservation groups. Records include membership/dues renewals, correspondence regarding membership, and newsletters.

Series 9: Rasmuson Family Financial, 1907-2000 (30 cu. ft.) Records in this group consist of estate papers, trusts, personal finances, personal income taxes, and investments of the Rasmuson family. EER managed nearly all of the finances for both himself and his family members. The papers have been divided into two sub-series: Family Finances and Investments. Both have been chronologically arranged.

i. Family Finances, 1940-1999 (10 cu. ft.) Most of the material in this group concerns personal family finances. Records include estate and trust papers of Lile [Bernard] Rasmuson, personal banking statements and trust papers for EER, National Bank of Alaska stock statements, and personal income taxes for EER, both of his wives, and his three children,. Since much of this material concerns extant family members, a considerable portion of this sub-series has been restricted.

ii. Investments, 1907-2000 (20 cu. ft.) The records of this sub-series include financial statements, stock prospectuses, and statements for a variety of investments made by EER on behalf of himself and his family. The papers are arranged alphabetically into three groups: Real Estate (9.5 cu. ft), Mining & Oil (5 cu. ft.), and Other Investments (5.5 cu. ft.). EER invested heavily in real estate with a focus on hotels. All of these groups contain the same types of papers: minutes and reports of board of directors, financial statements, and stock transactions. The major properties invested in were the Anchorage-Westward Hotel, the Baranof Hotel, Homer Development Corporation, and Star Realty. Other real estate holdings are arranged alphabetically.

EER also invested in mining companies such as Ganes Mining Company and the Holky Dredging Company. These records include correspondence, financial statements, clean-up reports, lease agreements, tax papers and leases for coal and oil.

The remainder of the sub-series is composed of an alphabetically arranged group of investment material. EER does not seem to have invested in many of these companies. Most of the records are annual reports, financial statements, stock prospectuses and some correspondence regarding stock performance.

Series 10: Biographical Materials, 1909-2000 and undated (22.5 cu. ft.) These records are arranged into seven sub-series; Vital Statistics Information, Correspondence, Homes, Medical, Travel, Clubs, and Subject Files.

i. Vital Statistics Information, 1909, 1986-2000 (.5 cu. ft.) This sub-series contains Elmer Rasmuson's birth and death certificates, programs from his funeral ceremony, and clippings. Other information concerns the purchase of grave markers for other family members and EER's will. The materials are alphabetically arranged.

ii. Correspondence, 1918-1923, 1938-2000 (10 cu. ft.) The correspondence has been divided into three groupings: family correspondence, EER reading file, and personal correspondence. Family correspondence contains materials from EER's mother, father, both wives, all three of his children and several of his grandchildren. These records are arranged alphabetically by individual. EER's reading file is a group of correspondence put together by one of Rasmuson's secretaries, Pat Hostetter. It is mostly comprised of carbon copies of letters sent by EER concerning a wide variety of topics. These papers have been left in their original chronological order. Personal materials sent by individuals are arranged alphabetically by person. Some of the correspondents are: Robert Atwood, Norton Clapp, Fred and Sara Machentanz, Terris Moore, Frank Murkowski, Ted Stevens, Bradford Washburn, and William R. Wood.

iii. Homes, 1917-2000 (4 cu. ft.) These records concern homes EER owned. They are arranged alphabetically and include insurance papers, housekeeper correspondence, utilities and fees for condos, television agreements, electricity bills, home improvement receipts, and blueprints/bluelines. The properties concerned include: Alyeska, Anchorage Apartments, Lost Lake Cabin, Anchorage residence, Marrakesh Country Club Condominiums, Snow Ridge Condominiums, Turnagain Heights, and Zodiac Manor.

iv. Medical, 1950-1991 (.5 cu. ft.) This sub-series is arranged alphabetically and is mostly made up of health insurance statements and receipts for medical service for both EER and Lile [Bernard] Rasmuson.

v. Travel, 1946-2000 and undated (1.5 cu. ft.) This material includes itineraries, reservations, hotel confirmations, airline mileage plan promotions, some correspondence arranging travel plans, and passport/visa photographs. The folders are alphabetically arranged by travel location. EER and Mary Louise [Milligan] Rasmuson's travel was greatest in the 1960s and 1970s although both continued exploring new places well into the 1990s. Destinations visited include the Aegean, Australia, the Bahamas, Boston, Brazil, Chicago, China, Europe (several times), France, Idaho, Israel, Mexico, New York, New Zealand, Scandinavia, Seattle, Skagway, Switzerland, Thailand, Taiwan, and Vienna.

vi. Clubs, 1949-2000 (2 cu. ft.) Records pertain to a variety of country clubs, church affiliations, and organizations of which EER was a member or attended. The materials are alphabetically arranged by organization and include Alaskan of the Year Incorporated, 21 Organization, Harbor Club of Seattle, Navy Guest Cruise Program, Petroleum Club, the First Presbyterian Church in Anchorage, Prince William Sound Aquaculture, Rainier Club, Thunderbird Country Club, and the West Vancouver Yacht Club.

Most of these papers concern membership/dues renewals, rosters, and house rules for some of the country clubs (i.e. Rainer Club, Petroleum Club). The Harbor Club of Seattle and the West Vancouver Yacht Club are included in this sub-series because both seem to have more of a social function than just slip fees for docking privileges. First Presbyterian Church materials include bulletins for services, requests for donations, and correspondence regarding the installation of a stained glass window EER commissioned, as well as a search for a new pastor.

vii. Subject Files, 1921-2000 (4 cu. ft.) These records are materials that could not be easily slipped into a category because of their miscellaneous nature. They encompass a wide variety of topics and are arranged alphabetically. Topics range from family Christmas cards, the purchase of Franklin Mint jewelry, plates, and miniature duck decoys, fine art purchases/appraisals, personal accounts of the Good Friday earthquake, recipes, seed catalogs, to correspondence/notes regarding Terrence Cole's Banking on Alaska.

Record Group III: Lile Vivian [Bernard] Rasmuson, 1935-1960 (.5 cu. ft.)

This record group contains the papers of Lile Bernard Rasmuson (1911-1960), EER's first wife and mother of his three children. The papers consist primarily of correspondence, newspaper clippings and biographical material relating to Lile's marriage to, and life with, Elmer Rasmuson. A small number of documents concern her service and leisure activities. There are four series for this group and the materials are chronologically arranged.

Series 1: Correspondence, 1939-1954 (4 folders) This series contains letters written by EER to Lile prior to their marriage, congratulatory letters, attendance replies, and gift and wedding cards addressed to Lile Bernard, Elmer Rasmuson and Mrs. A. Clifford Bernard, Lile's mother. There is also some general correspondence from 1954 regarding the care of rhododendrons and a book referral.

Series 2: Civic Activities, 1952-1954 (2 folders) This series consists of two documents: a 1952-1953 membership card for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and one letter regarding Lile's involvement in the South Central Alaska Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, March of Dimes.

Series 4: Biographical Material, 1935-1941, 1959-1960 (4 folders) This series contains newspaper clippings regarding Lile Bernard's wedding to EER, her death in 1960, and articles about A.C. Bernard, Lile's father. There are also photographs of EER (ca. 1935), EER and one of the children (child not identified, ca. 1940), and a family Christmas photo (ca. 1950-1955). The final folder contains a Skidmore School 1934 Class History in which Lile wrote about her family and their life in Alaska.

Record Group IV: Mary Louise [Milligan] Rasmuson, 1960-1970, 1988-1994 (.5 cu. ft.)

This record group consists of correspondence, newspaper clippings and reports documenting the personal, civic and military activities of Mary Louise [Milligan] Rasmuson (b. 1911). Each of the four series is chronologically arranged.

Series 1: Correspondence, 1961-1968, 1991-1993 (4 folders) This series contains Christmas cards and general correspondence to and from Mary Louise and EER. There are a few congratulatory letters on the occasion of their 1961 marriage, one of Mary Louise's appointment books (1961-1962), and one letter and a guaranty for Mary Louise's brother and sister-in-law to enter a retirement village.

Series 2: Civic Activities and Associations, 1969, 1988-1989, 1994 (4 folders) Newspaper clippings and correspondence document Mary Louise's involvement with the March of Dimes and the Civilian Advisory Board of the US Air Force, Alaska Air Commission. Both Mary Louise and EER were a major force behind the creation of the Anchorage Museum of History and Art. Records of ceremonies marking the museum's twentieth anniversary include a speech given by EER entitled "Remarks at Reception to Honor Mary Louise at the Museum of History and Art."

Series 3: Military Activities and Associations, 1961-1962 (2 folders) In 1942 Mary Louise Milligan entered the Women's Army Corps (WAC), becoming Director in 1957 and obtaining the rank of colonel. She retired soon after her marriage to EER after having served twenty years. Newspaper clippings recount her military activities and reports outline the schedule of events surrounding her retirement ceremonies. There are also congratulatory cards, letters, telegrams, guest lists and RSVPs. Printed matter includes the Army Kit of Contest Songs with the Song of the Women's Army Corps inside. There are also slides from possible tours of duty.

Series 4: Biographical Material, 1960-1961 (2 folders) This series contains Mary Louise's curriculum vita and sheet music.

Record Group V: Maud Evangeline [Rasmuson] Atwood & Robert Atwood, 1921-1923, 1947-1954, 1974-1999 (.5 cu. ft.)

This record group consists of the correspondence and biographical material of Maud Evangeline Atwood (1906-1987), her husband Robert Atwood (1907-1997), and their children Marilyn and Elaine. Starting at a young age, Maud preferred to be called by her middle name, Evangeline. The two series are chronologically arranged.

Series 1: Correspondence, 1947-1949, 1974 (1 folder) The bulk of the letters are from Evangeline to her parents, EAR and Jenny. Other letters are from the Atwood children to EAR and Jenny and vice versa. This correspondence refers mostly to family matters.

Series 2: Biographical Material, 1921-1923, 1954, 1978-1999 (5 folders)

Newspaper clippings document the Rasmuson family's arrival in Skagway, the grades Evangeline and her brother Elmer attended in school, Evangeline's obituary, and a tribute to Robert Atwood. There is also a 1999 program for the Alaskan of the Year Banquet that includes brief bios of both Robert and Evangeline. The final folder contains a copy of the presentation for Evangeline's honorary Ph.D.

Record Group IX: The National Bank of Alaska, 1899-2000 and undated (180 cu. ft.)

The National Bank of Alaska papers are the largest record group in this collection. For this record group, the bank branches were used as subgroups to reflect an organizational system used by the bank. The two branches that served as head office, Skagway (1916-1946) and Anchorage (1946-2000), both contain a much larger volume of material in comparison with the other branches. This, and their status as head offices necessitated that both these subgroups be treated separately. Therefore, the series descriptions for the smaller branches will appear first, followed by those for Anchorage and Skagway.

This record group also contains a film collection of the Heritage of Alaska series narrated by Elmer Rasmuson. The reels have been separated out of the collection and are available at the Alaska Film Archives. There are also audio tapes with bank promotional material and advertisements. These cassette tapes remain with the bank papers.

Because the records for the bank branches are so similar, a set of standard series has been devised: correspondence, executive, president, governance, trusts, loans, operations, legal, marketing/public relations, human resources, and photographs. Descriptions of each series are below:

Series:

Series A: Correspondence: general correspondence between customers and bank employees. The majority of these records concern deposits and withdrawals to customer accounts.

Series B: Executive: routine bank audits, board of director correspondence, Territorial Corporation (New York owners) correspondence, fiscal analyses, board of director minutes and agendas, executive committee reports, bank officer meeting minutes, annual reports, building construction documents including plans and blueprints. Some materials are restricted.

Series C: President: presidents' correspondence/memos, employment inquiries, bank procedural inquiries.

Series D: Governance: Department of the Interior correspondence, Territorial Banking Board correspondence/memos, Federal Bureau of Investigation circulars, Department of the Treasury correspondence.

Series E: Trusts: proposed and active bank investments, stock and bond records, stock certificates, estate papers. Some materials are restricted.

Series F: Loans: mortgage and loan correspondence, printed matter, loan reviews/audits, reports on outstanding/delinquent loans, loan approvals/declines. Some materials are restricted.

Series G: Operations: ledgers, memos, flow sheets, productivity material, daily teller functions, bank manuals, reconcilements, invoices for office space, and daily transactions. Some materials are restricted.

Series H: Legal: court dockets, legal correspondence, affidavits. Some materials are restricted.

Series I: Marketing/Public Relations: ad campaigns, community service, NBA girls' choir, newsletters, newsclippings, scrapbooks, bank signages, FDIC decals, Heritage Library materials.

Series J: Human Resources: employment applications, personnel memos, HR newsletters, timesheets. Some materials are restricted.

Original filing systems for the bank were readily apparent for the correspondence series only. The alphabetical system used for the correspondence has been maintained. For all other series, alphabetical arrangement was used if a series was five cubic feet or more; otherwise the arrangement is chronological. The following outline details the series of records available for each branch.

Subgroup 2: Anchorage Branch, 1916-2000 and undated (60 cu. ft.)

The Anchorage branch opened in 1916 and was one of the earliest branches in the bank's history. In 1946, President Elmer Rasmuson shifted the bank's headquarters from Skagway to Anchorage, citing population dynamics as one of the major reasons. Anchorage remained NBA headquarters until the merger with Wells Fargo in 2000.

Series over 5 cubic feet have been arranged alphabetically to better aid the researcher. The correspondence series has been arranged in alphabetical order to reflect the original file order. All other series are arranged chronologically.

Subgroup 48: Skagway Branch, 1899-1996 and undated (54 cu. ft.)

The Skagway branch was the first bank headquarters (1916 to 1946). Because the bank conducted its business mostly through correspondence in its early days, this subgroup contains more letters than the others.

Series over 5 cubic feet have been arranged alphabetically to better aid the researcher. The correspondence series has been arranged in alphabetical order to reflect the original file order. All other series are chronologically arranged.

Record Group X: The Rasmuson Foundation, 1965-1981, 1994-2000 and undated (.5 cu. ft.)

This record group concerns the Rasmuson Foundation, a charitable organization created by Jenny Rasmuson in 1955 to honor the memory of her late husband, E.A. Rasmuson. The Foundation is the only general grant-funding private organization in Alaska and provides its assistance to non-profit Alaskan institutions. The papers have been organized into three series: Proposals and Grants, Promotional, and Administrative.

Series 1: Proposals and Grants, 1999-2000 and undated (1 folder) This series contains correspondence regarding several proposals to the Rasmuson Foundation.

Series 2: Promotional, 1999-2000 and undated (1 folder) These papers provide a basic history of the Foundation and a brochure that explains the grant application process.

Series 3: Administrative, 1965-1981, 1994-2000 (8 folders) Materials include a 1965 accounting of the Foundation along with its assets, lists of charitable contributions from 1964 through 1979, trust account statements, an explanation of a section of the tax code, correspondence regarding a tax code extension, grant requests, a quarterly report, and correspondence/memos concerning a stock donation by Elmer Rasmuson in 2000.

PROCESSING DESCRIPTION

Edward Bernard Rasmuson donated the bulk of the Elmer E. Rasmuson Papers in 2001. Twenty-two cubic feet of National Bank of Alaska materials arrived from Wells Fargo in 2003. Processing of the collection began in February of 2003 with an initial inventory at a secure off-site warehouse. Inventory completion occurred in September and at that time, Rasmuson Library had prepared an area in the library that was large enough to house the collection. Collection processing began in mid-September of 2003.

It became apparent early on that there would be some overlap of materials. Folders often contained unrelated materials in addition to records indicated by the folder label. In order to preserve the original order of the papers, no materials were removed from the folders to be placed in other record groups or series. The decision on where to place these folders hinged on the amount of materials belonging to one series and the folder label. This overlap is most apparent in the Civic and Political series of the Elmer E. Rasmuson record group where political committee material often appears in the same folder as a civic activity. Overlap also occurred in some of the National Bank of Alaska papers for the same reason.

For most record groups, the papers were sorted into appropriate series and then refoldered into acid-free folders. Original folder titles were maintained. If there was a need for more information that was not in the original title (ie. dates), brackets were used to indicate information added by the archivist. Materials within each folder were then chronologically arranged, newsprint copied, and all metal objects/restrictive agents removed from the papers. The folders were then arranged and housed into acid-free boxes. Container lists were created and series descriptions written.

Photographs and materials too large for the boxes were separated out of the folders and rehoused into larger folders and boxes. Separation notices are located in the original folders to guide the researcher to these items.

There are a number of restricted folders in these papers. Most are located in the National Bank of Alaska record group and series 9: Rasmuson Family Financial of EER's record group. These materials have been identified by a "restricted" stamp on the box and a restriction notice placed in the front of the box.
